

BIOGRAPHY

Caitlin Farmer has over 20 years of experience as a physiotherapist in Australia, the United Kingdom and Canada. She has worked in Emergency Departments since 2008 and as a Clinical Lead since 2012, implementing a range of advanced practice clinics and services. Caitlin is currently the Clinical Lead for Advanced practice at the Royal Melbourne Hospital and works across three metropolitan emergency departments in Melbourne as an Advanced Practice physiotherapist. She also works in advanced practice roles in Neurosurgery and Orthopaedics and is a Member of the Australian College of Physiotherapists. Caitlin is on the Australian Physiotherapy Association National Advisory Council, is current National chair of the Advanced Practice and Emergency Department group and is on the Diagnostic Imaging Advisory Council for the Australian Federal Government. She has an undergraduate physiotherapy degree from Latrobe University, a Postgraduate Masters of Musculoskeletal Physiotherapy and is currently completing a PhD at Monash University involving optimisation of radiology reporting of low back pain.