

Biography

Dr. Carleen Jogodka is a PT with certification in orthopaedic practice and a Fellow of the AAOMPT. With 17 years of full-time experience as an emergency PT (EPT) at the first U.S. hospital to have PTs embedded in the emergency department, Carleen's work has included clinical research, publications, numerous presentations, clinical and course instruction to PTs and medical communities. As an APTA member, she has served both Arizona and National organizations in various capacities. This has included practice task forces, involvement with three EPT-focused HOD motions, and EPT content expert. Currently, Carleen serves as chairperson for both the Academy of Acute Care Physical Therapy EPT Focus Group and a grassroots Emergency PT Steering Committee. She has recently been added to the MACRA Episode-based Cost Measure Workgroup for Emergency Medicine, representing the physical therapy profession. She is a co-founder/owner of Novus HealthWorks, a private healthcare consulting and educational firm.
